ALLIES MARCH TO TAKE PEKING

Thirty Miles of Chinese Block the Road—Americans, British and Japanese Start Advance.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The allies began the advance from Tientsin this morning, according to an agency bulletin dated at Shanghai at 11:10 A. M. to-day.

It is assumed that the American, British and Japanese are taking part in this forward movement, whether other nationalities are or not. An advance base will probably be established twenty or thirty miles nearer Peking and supplies will be assembled preparatory to a direct strike at the capital.

Of the 60,000 allies debarked at Pechili ports, English military observers consider that 30,000 are available for an advance beyond Tientsin.

The Chinese forces, according to the vague gatherings of the allied intelligence officers, up to July 27 were disposed in a great arc, thirty miles long and distant ten or fifteen miles. The numbers and exact location of the several divisions are utterly unknown.

The Peking River is blocked by sunken stone-laden junks for twenty miles beyond Tientsin, and further up, according to Chinese spies of the allies, a day has been consumed for the purpose of flooding the low-lying expanse of country.

The first engagement of the relief expedition will probably be at Mo-Tang, where the Viceroy of Yulu personally commands.

The following information was brought to Tientsin Wednesday, July 26, by a Chinese messenger who was sent to be killed by the legation at Peking. He was unable to deliver the message intended to him, and left Peking July 18. He saw a few troops between Peking and Yang-tsun. No works had been constructed. Food in Peking was scarce, and the city would be quite unable to stand a siege.

Among the scraps of information brought by another courier, who left Peking July 14, was the fact that Gen. Ma, a notable boxer chief, had been killed by the Legation.

TO DEFEND SHANGHAI

Admiral Seymour Asked by Consuls to Draw Up Plans—British Troops at Hong Kong.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—Shanghai telegrams say the foreign consuls met yesterday and decided to invite Admiral Seymour (British) to take command of the Shanghai defenses.

United States Consul-General Goodnow and French Consul-General de Beaure, on behalf of the consuls, visited Admiral Seymour and he promised to draw up plans and submit them to a council of officers. The Shanghai Municipal Council objects to the consular action.

The British Second Infantry Brigade has been ordered to embark at Hong Kong to form a firing column to serve somewhere in China.

Two more transports with Indian troops on board are due to arrive to-day.

The customs officer at Canton have seized a Chinese junk which had 2,000 rifles and much ammunition aboard.

ANARCHISTS DRIVE DOCTOR FROM CITY

Pennola Refused to Join Paterson "Society," Was Threatened, Then Assaulted.

Because he would not join the group of Paterson Anarchists Dr. Giovanni Pennola, after having been murderously assaulted, was compelled to flee from the city to save his life.

Dr. Pennola lived and had his office in the house of Giuseppe Scilla, in Bridge street. Scilla is the foreman in Weidman's silk mill. To-day he asked the police to look into the disappearance of the physician.

Two weeks ago Dr. Pennola received an unsigned letter, which he showed to Scilla. The physician was warned that he had better join "the society" or get out of the city.

"I guess some one is trying to play a joke on me," he said.

Scilla advised him to be careful, but Pennola laughed.

On Friday night two men called upon him, and after being ushered into his office suddenly set upon him.

They savagely beat him before he made his escape, and after smashing all the furniture in the place and destroying the doctor's diploma took their departure.

The doctor next morning packed his valise and, without giving any hint as to where he was going, disappeared.

His friends believe he was the victim of Anarchists, and having heard no word for him since his departure will fear that harm may have befallen him.

ACKRON MUST GO; "TERROR" TO BE TRANSFERRED, DECLARES DEVERY.

Chief of Police Devery says he is anxious to rid the city of Dimekeeper Ackron.

To an Evening World reporter this afternoon he was profuse in saying harsh things of the proprietor of the Tivoli.

"Capt. Thomas has received his orders," Devery said, "to close up the Tivoli if he possibly can, and to do away with Ackron, too."

Just what the mode of procedure was, as given to Thomas, the Chief would not say.

"It's about up to the State Excise Board," he continued. "The police have

BRESCI ADMITS PLOT.

ROME, Aug. 1.—In the course of his examination yesterday Bresci did not deny that he had been designated to assassinate King Humbert. It is now believed the crime was arranged in Paterson.

The police here say that Anarchist Bresci arrived from the United States with three companions, Lanner, Sassi and Quintavalle, all known Anarchists.

They went to Paris, where they conferred with the Anarchist International and decided upon the steps to be taken to assassinate Humbert.

The reason of his being selected as the first victim is said to be because he initiated the anti-Anarchist movement. Bresci was to kill the King at Monza, or if he failed there, at Ivrea, near Turin.

The man named Salvatore Quintavalle, who returned from the United States with Bresci and accompanied him to an Anarchist meeting in Paris, was arrested at the Rio Martino, on the island of Elba.

The police found on him letters and photographs of Anarchists. Antonio Lanner, who also accompanied Bresci from the United States, was arrested at Ivrea. In consequence of these arrests the belief in the existence of a plot is increasing.

The police say Bresci's revolver was bought in New York. There are reports that two assassins were engaged in Humbert's killing, as two revolvers were found, the second being of French make and bearing the date of Carnot's assassination.

POLICEMAN SAVED TWO NUNS.

Two nuns of charity were rescued from a collision wagon of the St. Vincent's Hospital in a runaway this afternoon and slightly hurt.

The horses took fright at a street car and galloped down the street, and dashed upon the wagon, overturning it just as Policeman John H. McCormick gallantly stopped the plunging horse. But for his heroism the nuns would have been seriously injured.

24 ANARCHISTS ARE ARRESTED IN ITALY.

ROME, Aug. 1.—Twenty-four persons have been arrested as confederates of Bresci, the Anarchist assassin of King Humbert.

One of these is a woman, Teresa Brugnoli, who was captured in Prato, and is believed to be the woman who wrote the letter to Bresci from New York asking "Is all ready?"

Six of the others were arrested at Prato also and the rest in Milan. The six are known correspondents of Bresci and the woman.

Bresci was lured to the scene of his crime by his love for Teresa. She promised to join him at Prato if he would go there and carry out the assassination.

She was chosen by the Red International for this work, as her great influence over Bresci was known and it had been decided as necessary to offer some big inducement to keep him from wavering.

The Brugnoli woman is the mother of a child, of which Bresci is supposed to be the father.

BIG "DEATH" MEETING.

It is thought that there are several Italian secret agents in Paterson, but at least one of them has been marked by the Anarchists, who have set a watch upon him. These shadows are in his footsteps day and night, and detailed reports are made to the chief each day of all the agent's movements.

The Evening World to-day made discoveries which strengthen the belief that the whole plot of assassination was mapped out in Paterson and that not only a half dozen men had a knowledge of it but nearly two hundred of them.

The meeting place of the hole is at 24 Market street, up two flights of dark stairways. Usually each meeting is attended by not more than thirty or forty men.

On Saturday night last, a few hours after one of the Anarchists who plotted the assassination of King Humbert committed suicide near Paterson, N. J., early this morning.

Literature found upon him showed that he was a radical Anarchist. He carried two dirks.

His life was ended by a drink of sulphate of zinc.

A manly showed that he was a member of some Italian lodge.

FOUND DYING IN CAR.

The man was found lying in an abandoned car at Singac, a few miles from Paterson.

He was still alive. A condensed milk can that contained the poison was beside him. He was removed to the General Hospital, where he died without regaining consciousness.

An Italian who saw him being taken into the hospital said:

"I know him. He was a friend of Bresci." The man declined to say more, and when the police looked for him he had disappeared.

The suicide was a well-built man of forty-five with a strong, intelligent face. He was 5 feet 8 inches in height and had dark hair and a sandy mustache.

His suit was of dark material and his shirt of blue flannel. When found he had his coat and shoes off.

FLED FROM LIGHT.

He had evidently secured the unusual place in the car because the chances of discovery were few between night and morning.

The only money he had was 30 cents in small change.

A book rolled and every leaf well worn was in the pocket of his coat. It was a work containing socialist views of government, and had evidently been read and reread scores of times.

On the fly leaf of the book was written:

"Death to Fabris!"

Fabris is the name of the writer of one of the letters found in Bresci's possession by the Italian police. The contents have not yet been made public.

Not far from the body was a pamphlet thought to be an Anarchist "death tract."

It is believed that the man was one of the Bresci's accomplices and that fear of the relentless search that has been begun in Paterson by the Italian government or remorse drove him to take his own life.

"Has an Anarchist plot against the life of President McKinley been discovered?" Mark Hanna was asked by an Evening World reporter at Republican headquarters this afternoon.

"I CANNOT TALK ABOUT THAT," HE REPLIED.

"IT WOULD BE DANGEROUS, WERE I TO DISCUSS THE PRESIDENT IN CONNECTION WITH KING HUMBERT'S ASSASSINATION OR ANARCHIST MURDERS IT WOULD SET EVERY CRANK IN THE COUNTRY PLOTTING AGAINST HIM."

Proofs multiply to show that Paterson, N. J., is a nest of Anarchists and that Humbert's assassination was hatched there.

The Italian Consulate gave out to-day that Bresci's companions, arrested in Italy, Quintavalle, Lanner and Sassi, were well known here.

Quintavalle was a resident of West Hoboken; Sassi lived in this city, and Lanner is believed to be one Lana. All were members of the Paterson group of Reds.

Another Anarchist killed himself to-day with a strange poison in an empty car at Paterson.

He was a friend and may have been an accomplice of the assassin, as he had a book on which was written "Death to Fabris!"

Fabris was the name signed to some of the letters discovered on Bresci by the Italian police.

BRESCI'S COMPANIONS CAME FROM PATERSON.

The three men arrested in Italy as accomplices of Bresci, the assassin, are Americans and members of the Paterson group. The Italian Consulate in this city says that Quintavalle was a resident of West Hoboken.

Sassi resided in New York City. Lanner is not known by the name given in the cable despatches. He is supposed to be one Lana, a member of the Paterson group.

The trio arrested by the Italian police are all known to the members of the group for assistance in Paterson. They attended the meetings.

Other members of the Paterson group say there is no person named Lana in Paterson.

It is certain that the name of Bresci's accomplice is assumed. It is suspected that he is an Anarchist named Graisoni, who was employed in Weidman's Dry Works, where he was very friendly with Bresci.

A striking coincidence bears out the theory. Bresci bought his steamship ticket from Piquette (Bresci), agent for the Italian steamship line at Paterson, and called on May 22 under the name of Bresci.

Graisoni went to the ticket agent in the early part of last month and was at once recognized by a clerk as an Anarchist leader. He said he was going abroad to settle some family affairs, which he wished to keep private, and asked that he be entered on the passenger list as Bianchi. Under that name he sailed on July 4 on the Anarchist.

swearing shortly before Bresci's bullet killed Humbert he was warned that the lives of the sovereigns were in danger.

The Anarchist, he was told, had named men who would kill each of the monarchs. The warning was not received in time to prevent Humbert's death.
